

The Remarkable Bargain

♩ = 150

Catherine Faber

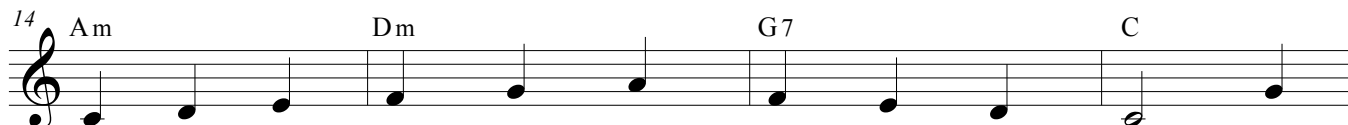

the ver - y best grif - ter I e - ver en - coun - tered. Whe He found a cheap mule, but it did have a draw - back; The We left the next day, with the mule mo - ving slow - ly; It's Bar - gain's dark eyes made us a feel ra - ther guil - ty, His Half - way to Dy - fed, a mule by the fence line, _____ made the whole par - ty look all kinds of fool. This mule was quite old, and on top of that, ill. But load was too hea - vy; we shoul - dered our packs. _____

 "why are you do - ing this" air did - n't cease. _____
 Sees it is us, and starts promp - tly to drool. _____

moo - cher this con - man was not e - ven hu - man, Oh we had a cle - ric, who cured its pneu - mo - nia, For E - ven his fruit and his grain we di - vi - ded, _____ Why should we drag this poor crea - ture to Dy - fed? _____
 Out come the ap - ples in - ten - ded for lunch - eon. Be hark to the sto - ry of Bar - gain the mule. We fear the the jour - ny our the bar - gain would kill. We Add - ing its weight to the load on our backs. We Let his last days have some com - fort and a peace. We grate - ful that Bar - gain was on - ly a mule. The wan - ted a mule for a trip to Pen - Dy - fed, A let Bar - gain rest for a night in the sta - ble, We stopped no and then when his a trip in the whee - zing To found a nice pas - ture and took off his hal - ter, The ver - y best grif - ter I e - ver en - coun - tered, Who lei - sure - ly walk of a cou - ple of days A bought him hot mash, and a rub - down to boot Some let him re - lax, where the sha - dow was cool. It last fruit and bar - ley we the fed to him then, We made the whole par - ty look all kinds of fool. This

The Remarkable Bargain

26 F C F C

beast that would car - ry the bulk of our bur - dens, The fruit and some grain - to give strength on the jour - ney, And took us three days to get half - way to the Dy - fed, — shoul - dered our packs, and walked brisk - ly to Dy - fed. We moo - cher this con man was not é - ven hu - man. And

30 F C Dm C

wi - zard set out a good bar - gain to raise.
 all of this boun - ty came out of our loot.
 Thanks to the pur - chase of Bar - gain the mule.
 fi - gured we'd ne - ver see Bar - gain a - gain.
 that was the sto - ry of Bar - gain the mule.